

Tips To Organize Your New Home

Moving in a new home is the best time to be organized. Follow these simple tips and your new home will be thanking you.

No clutter

Cherish your memories, but throw away or donate the stuff that is spoilt or is no longer in use. Spending money and time on packing and transporting the clutter to your new home is not wise. Also, lesser the stuff, easier would it be to organize.

Visualize

Have a floor plan of the home and start visualizing one room at a time. Place the boxes in the room only when you get a fair idea of the stuff to be arranged in available space.

Categorize

Once you have unpacked boxes in each room, categorize the stuff and place like items together. It gives a neat & organized look to the place and also makes it easier for you to find the items later.

Command Center

Have a designated place to keep basic items like keys, wallet, bags, sunglasses or any other items that you may need while stepping out of home. Once you inculcate the habit of keeping the stuff at it's place, you & your home will become more organized.

Organize Daily

Once your home is organized, make it a habit to keep the things where they belong, to avoid a do-over. Take out sometime to arrange the stuff and maintain your home before you go to bed everyday.
